

Abstract

5 A method of selecting a symbol table includes providing a plurality of symbol tables in a computer system having an address pointer. Each of the symbol tables encompasses a range of addresses. The method also includes identifying at least one of the plurality of symbol tables within whose range of addresses the address pointer is pointing, and selecting the at least one of 10 the plurality of symbol tables.